

Assistant Research Professor
HIV/AIDS Epidemiology

The George Washington University
School of Public Health and Health Services

The Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics of the GWU School of Public Health and Health Services is recruiting for a dynamic, full-time faculty member at the rank of Assistant Research Professor. Responsibilities for the successful applicant will include working in collaboration with the District of Columbia Department of Health on a series of HIV/AIDS epidemiology and surveillance projects, and contributing to the educational mission of the Department through the teaching and mentoring of graduate students.

Required Qualifications:

- Doctoral degree in epidemiology or in medicine with advanced training and experience in epidemiology
- Track record of peer-reviewed publications
- Experience working in HIV/AIDS epidemiology or surveillance

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience teaching and mentoring graduate students in Epidemiology
- Strong verbal and written communication skills
- Experience working with local or state health departments

Application Procedure: To be considered, interested applicants should submit the following documents electronically: 1) a curriculum vitae; 2) a statement of research interests and accomplishments; and 3) a statement of teaching and mentoring experience and interest, to:

Search Committee, HIV/AIDS Research Assistant Professor
c/o Stephanie Panichello, Department Manager
Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics
School of Public Health and Health Services
The George Washington University
epibiojobs@gwumc.edu (please submit all materials electronically to this e-mail address)

Please include Position Tracking Number EPI 11-03 in email subject line.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2012. Only complete applications will be considered. Rank and salary will be commensurate with experience. Additional information about the SPHHS can be found at <http://sphhs.gwumc.edu/>.

The George Washington University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.